

Written by Katherine Martinko
Monday, 21 March 2016 14:49 -

Less than two weeks after environmental activist Berta Cáceres was murdered in Honduras, another member of her organization has been killed. Nelson García was active in the Civic Council of Popular and Indigenous Organizations of Honduras (COPINH), a group that has been targeted for many years by a government intolerant of activism aimed at protecting the environment.

Read the article here: <http://www.treehugger.com/culture/another-environmental-activist-nelson-garcia-murdered-honduras.html>